

Humanity Arise.

I was born into this world, set upon a path something didn't feel right, from the start They told me to comply, and not step out of line
Or I'd have something taken away

They told me that I, I could not pray
That in a prison cell of mediocrity I'd stay Cause what they feared the most was the KRE8OR in me Would smash the illusion, and I, realise I was free

But now the tide is turning, and this world has been learning there's a bigger better brighter way freedom is not a destination, but a manifestation that you can make happen today

Now my eyes are opened, a slave I am no more,
The scales of truth and justice
Have been weighed for one and all

Now I've got a reason to live, I've got a reason to shout
With everything inside of me It's time to believe and not be deceived you were born for so much more

Answer the call....STAND UP, SPEAK OUT arise

Humanity arise, look into the eyes
Of a future, a world without fear
As we the people awaken, foundations are shaken

And we realise who we were all along.... we are

Kr8ors of change Kr8ors of hope

Kr8ing life, love and liberty for all

We shout out, freedom rules, freedom reigns cause' it runs like fire, a fire in our veins
